

St. Paul's Episcopal Church

The Epistle

June Issue

May 31, 2023

We of St. Paul's have found ways to move closer to the end of our Covid isolation. We have supported each other in our pain of losing our beloved priest Father Nick to forced retirement due to restrictions. Along with the loss of our priest, we also lost his mother Olga and his spouse Wil. We now stand at the threshold of a new era in our shared history as we await the call of a new priest. I remembered writing an article about coping with the isolation of Covid. I found that article and thought it might help us focus on where we have been and where we wish to be. Perhaps we might call it a meditation.

-Deacon George

A Pilgrimage

I'm sure I'm not going overboard when I write, all of us are eager to see an end to our isolation so that we may embrace a time when we can all be together again. All of us are looking for that rainbow in the sky that will tell us we are loved by our Lord and that we may once again come to His house. Many of us are longing the way things were just a short time ago, while others of us are looking for a better life in a changed world; more compassionate, a world where we may all live the promise of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Coronavirus has disrupted our lives and forced us to be creative in our thinking. Physical travel is of course almost out of the question, but what about a journey to our sacred places, the holy places held in our minds? If we travel there, we might call ourselves pilgrims on a pilgrimage. A pilgrim may be defined as one who travels to a shrine or holy place as a devotee. Following that train of thought, might we not look at this alone time as a retreat, an inward journey of spiritual growth? In my research of the words “pilgrim” and “pilgrimage” I ran across this quote from National Geographic: “Indeed, historians have argued that the Black Plague paved the way for a new wave of opportunity, creativity, and wealth from which would flourish the art, culture and ideas of the Renaissance, and the beginning of a recognizable modern Europe.”(April 23, 2020) How might our thoughts change if we used this quote as a meditation during our solo retreat? Continuing in that vein, what would be the site of your inward pilgrimage? The steps cut in the side of a sandy bluff along our beautiful coast, that would end in the flat plane of the bluff where you could wander to see that place where the ocean and sky become one? Perhaps the pilgrimage could be a climb up a stone mountain in our Yosemite Valley, with the reward at the end of the climb being the unobstructed vision of forests, meadows, streams and waterfalls? I am unable to even venture a guess as to where your pilgrimage might take you. I only know the space where, for me, all negative thoughts vanish, and the presence of our Lord fills my mind.

My pilgrimage is to a place high in the Sierra Mountains, a place only visited once by Paige, myself, and our dear friends of 40 plus years. It was a June day, and yet it was still more than cool and very near to cold. Some hundred yards from the narrow road on which we had traveled was a fast rushing stream, now swollen with the thawing snow and ice. The five of us agreed that this was something special and that we should all walk alone to be able to take in the grandeur, and later share our experiences. As I approached this stream that had turned into a river. I saw a boulder: smooth, round, and taller than a two-story house. I just knew I must try to climb to the very top so that I might see the full power and beauty of this wonder. With great effort and a few pains I would not appreciate until later, I scratched my way to the very top of the hugeness, and what a sight to behold. So fast was the river before me rushing down the incline of the mountain, that the water was churned white and the air was filled with mist. Along the banks of this new river there were patches of snow still hidden from the sun by overhanging bushes. The roar from this surging water was deafening. If one of my friends had been near and standing five feet away, he or she could not have heard me if I shouted full out. As I stood there in awe of the sight before me, I let my eyes travel upstream. I could not see very far because the mist was so heavy that the thundering waters were hidden. I then looked downstream, and there also the view was blocked by mist. Caught in the moment and in the awe of the grandeur of God, I threw my arms outward, one pointing upstream, the other downstream. In the next instant I shouted as loud as possible, “Lord, you are from never-ending to never-ending.”

This is my sacred place, my holy pilgrimage; a destination where there is more of our Lord and less of me. As I wrote this last sentence, my pen froze in my hand. All along I had thought of myself as writing an invitation to share the meditation I had experienced. The Psalms (Songs) of Ascent*; Psalms sung by pilgrims as they traveled the roads leading to the temple and sung again as they ascended the fifteen steps bringing them into the Temples common area. My thoughts took another path with the writing of these last few words, “where there is more of our Lord and less of me.”

Those words, for me, are about learning to be humble. Isn't that what pilgrimage and retreat are all about? Contained in both is a desire to remember, and a desire to find that touchstone that the Prophet Jeremiah proclaims vrs. 24:7, “I will give them a heart to know that I am the Lord; and they shall be my people and I will be their God, for they shall return to me with their whole heart.” I am humbled by Jeremiah's words, and that is a good thing because fear and uncertainty are no match for “I am the Lord; and they shall be my people.”

May Our Lord continue to bless us.

Your Servant in Christ, Deacon George

Search Committee Update

It has been over 18 months since Fr. Nick Lorenzetti retired and that the Vestry/Search Committee has been working to discern who may be the next rector for St. Paul's. During that time a profile of our congregation and community was written and distributed through various networks that are known to Cn. Anna and Bp. David. From those contacts the Committee interviewed 5 candidates, at various times, via Zoom, with 3 visiting for in-person interviews. Those 3 interviews were done in Spring 2022, Fall 2022, and Spring 2023. Following each interview, a call was issued, but declined in each case, for a variety of reasons. A major challenge is that for every priest looking to discern their next step, there are 10 vacant pulpits, several within our diocese.

The profile has been updated and sent out to the networks again by Cn. Anna. Before the Committee can interview any potential candidates, they must be vetted by Cn. Anna and Bp. David. The Committee is waiting to hear about any candidates and is ready to continue seeking God's person for St. Paul's.

The Vestry/Search Committee members are happy to answer questions about the process but cannot answer specific questions about the candidates. We're grateful for continuing prayers, including using this one found in the BCP, pg. 818:

Almighty God, giver of every good gift: Look graciously on your Church, and so guide the minds of those who shall choose a rector for St. Paul's, that we may receive a faithful pastor, who will care for your people and equip us for our ministries; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Please contact Linda Lowe, 209-496-3937 or lwlowe@outlook.com, with any questions.

Summer Solace

The best remedy for those who are afraid, lonely or unhappy is to go outside, somewhere where they can be quite alone with the heavens, nature and God. Because only then does one feel that all is as it should be and that God wishes to see people happy, amidst the simple beauty of nature. As long as this exists, and it certainly always will, I know that then there will always be comfort for every sorrow, whatever the circumstances may be. And I firmly believe that nature brings solace in all troubles.

Salvation Army Shelter Dinner

Sunday, May 14th, the Salvation Army Dinner Team prepared and served pulled pork sandwiches, cole slaw, steamed veggies, milk and strawberry cake with whipped cream to 130 guests and staff. It was very well-received with guests lining up for second helpings and a promise of sharing the cake recipe. For the team, meeting the people and providing delicious meals that are appreciated, is a great blessing. The next dinner will be July 16th. Stay tuned for more news and the ways that anyone can help. Please contact Linda Lowe, 209-496-3937 or lwlowe@outlook.com for more information. Prayer support, cooking, serving and donation assistance are always greatly appreciated.

Divine Dance

Using the fancy word perichoresis (from Greek for “around” and “contain”) may win you admiring — or strange! — looks. But since the 7th century, people have used it as a beautiful image of the Persons of the Holy Trinity containing and permeating one another. A more familiar word, choreography, has led to recent understandings of perichoresis as the divine and eternal dance of love.

Picture three dancers’ synchronized yet independent movements. Weaving gracefully in and out, each seems to know what the others will do next. They may touch lightly but don’t constrain or impede one another. Though distinct individuals, they move so fluidly together that they are, in a sense, one entity.

Even more profound: Jesus invites us into the dance! “If you love me,” he says, “you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth. ... I will come to you. ... I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you” (John 14:15-20, ESV). As the actions of Jesus, the Father and the Spirit interweave in Scripture and in the world, may our lives too be drawn into the loving dance.

Please continue to pray for the Vestry/Search Committee.

A Week of Tributes to Dad

To celebrate the special man in your life, use a quote a day the week before Father's Day, or honor him with tributes the whole week after. Write one of these (or one of your own) on a card, make a message into a placemat, tape one to the bathroom mirror — get creative!

- ◆ Every day of the week is a good day to celebrate his love and show him yours.
- ◆ “The heart of a father is the masterpiece of nature.” —Antoine F. Prévost
- ◆ “To the world you are a dad. To our family you are the world.” — Unknown
- ◆ “The best fathers have the softest, sweetest hearts. In other words, great dads are real marshmallows.” —Richelle E. Goodrich
- ◆ “Dad: a son's first hero, a daughter's first love.” —Unknown
- ◆ “A good father is one whose only reason for putting down a laughing baby is to pick up a crying one.” —Linda Poindexter
- ◆ “My father didn't do anything unusual. He only did what dads are supposed to do — be there.” —Max Lucado
- ◆ “I love my father as the stars. He's a bright shining example and a happy twinkling in my heart.” —Terri Guillemets

Finding Freedom

Juneteenth, America’s newest federal holiday, marks the official end of slavery in the nation. President Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation on January 1, 1863. Applying only to the states in the Confederacy, it declared “that all persons held as slaves are, and henceforward shall be free.” But news of freedom didn’t reach Galveston, Texas, until June 19, 1865, when 2,000 Union troops arrived to enforce the decree. The U.S. Constitution’s 13th Amendment, which bans slavery, was ratified a few months later.

Just as freedom and justice came in fits and starts to the Israelites, so it comes to our own country and around the world, where the pursuit for justice continues.

SJRAISE

Special Offering

June is Immigration Month in EDSJ!

SJRAISE, San Joaquin Refugee and Immigration Support and Empowerment, a ministry of the Diocese, is looking for assistance from the members of each church. For the four Sundays in June, a can with the SJRAISE logo will be on the altar rail near the offering plates, to accept any donations from our members. The collection will be sent to the Diocese in July. For more information about this ministry, go to the Diocesan website, www.diosanjoaquin.org.

JESUS' FAMILY TREE

Matthew records a timeline of Jesus' family dating back to Abraham. Do you know who is in Jesus' family tree?

Directions: Use Matthew 1:1-17 to order the genealogy. Then put the letters in order in the boxes to answer the question below.

- T. Uzziah the father of Jotham
- O. Jacob the father of Judah
- N. Jacob the father of Joseph
- E. Elihud the father of Eleazar
- U. Boaz the father of Obed
- F. Abraham the father of Isaac
- R. Solomon the father of Rehoboam
- E. Josiah the father of Jeconiah

How many generations were there from Abraham to David, from David to the Exile, and from the Exile to Jesus, the Messiah?

□ □ □ □ □ □ □ □

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8

Answer: FOURTEEN

A timeless timeline

Explore your history while compiling this family timeline.

What you need:

- Paper
- Clear tape
- Ruler
- Pencil

What you do:

1. Tape together at least 3 sheets of paper horizontally.
2. Draw a straight line across the center of the long paper. Label dates at regular intervals to keep the information organized. For example, each page you add could represent 10 years.
3. Gather information for the timeline. Start with your birth year and memorable events in your life. Interview family members to learn what year they were born and when key things in their life happened. Include notes and photos.
4. Add pages as needed. Carefully roll up the timeline to keep for generations to come.

Seasonal Humor

For summer weddings:

- ◇ The wedding was so beautiful, even the cake was in tiers.
- ◇ Did you hear about the two spiders who got engaged? They met on the web.
- ◇ Two cell phones got married. The reception was terrific!
- ◇ Why did the King of Hearts and the Queen of Hearts get married? They were perfectly suited.

For baseball season:

- ◇ I wondered why the baseball kept getting bigger and bigger. Then it hit me.
- ◇ What did the baseball glove say to the ball? “Catch ya later!”
- ◇ Why are frogs good baseball players? Because they’re good at catching flies.
- ◇ Why did Cinderella get kicked off the baseball team? She ran away from the ball.

And for Father’s Day, some dad jokes:

- ◇ My dream job is to clean mirrors because I can really see myself doing that.
- ◇ We’re renovating the house. The first floor is going great, but the second floor is another story.
